ATLANTA HAWKS MEDIA INFORMATION

MEMBERS OF THE MEDIA:

Welcome to the 1990-91 edition of Atlanta Hawks and NBA basketball. As the Hawks enter their 23rd year in Atlanta, the organization appreciates your efforts and extends its cooperation to assist you in your duties. In an effort to continue a smooth and efficient operation this season, the following rules have been established:

GENERAL: Additional Hawks information and photographs are available by contacting the Public Relations Department at (404) 827-3800. To send a fax to the Hawks offices, you may call (404) 827-3880.

CREDENTIALS: Single-game credentials (press and photo) must be requested to Arthur Triche no later than noon the day before the game (Friday noon for Sunday games). Pre-arranged credentials may be picked up at the press door on the lower level beneath Gate B of The Omni Coliseum. Credentials are good for admittance to the arena, media room, and home and visiting locker rooms. Those regularly assigned to the Hawks and the opposing teams will be seated at courtside, and those requesting single-game credentials will be seated on a first-come, first-served basis. Guests are not allowed.

MEDIA MEMBERS HOLDING MULTIPLE HAWKS SEASON PASSES SHOULD NOTIFY THE P.R. OFFICE IF PLANNING TO COVER A GAME IN ORDER TO RECEIVE PROPER SEATING.

PRESS ROOM: The Hawks press lounge is located to the left corridor of the press table (as you are seated), and left of the corridor which leads to the Hawks locker room. The press room will be open 90 minutes prior to game time, at halftime and following the game. We must limit press room usage to members of the media only when a valid Hawks press pass is presented. Telephones are available for filing purposes in the press room after the contest.

PRESS PARKING: Since space is limited for press parking, the nearest parking availability is located across The Omni at the CNN/The Decks parking garage. It is recommended that you arrive early enough to acquire a parking spot.

SERVICES: Game notes will be available in the press lounge 90 minutes prior to game time, or at the table in the corner of the arena adjacent to the Hawks dressing room. Game statistics (play-by-play, quarter stats and halftime box scores) will be delivered to the press table, while final boxes and fourth quarter play-by-plays will be available in the Press Lounge after the game.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Season passes will be provided to accredited photographers from Atlanta-area daily newspapers and television stations. Photographers from weekly newspapers and magazines must request single-game passes from the Director of Public Relations. Free-lance photographers wishing credentials must submit a letter citing a specific assignment from a publication to obtain working passes. Photographers are allowed only within the lines at each end of the court. Remember, spectators are seated directly behind you and court vision must not be hindered. In addition, photographers are not allowed in the Hawks or opponents locker room.

LOCKER ROOMS: In accordance with NBA policy, the Hawks locker room will be open to members of the media up to 45 minutes before game time and 10 minutes after the end of the game. Only working members of the press with valid credentials will be admitted to the locker rooms.

COMMUNICATIONS SERVICES: The Hawks provide communications/facsimile service in the auxiliary press offices after the game. Please check with a member of the P.R. staff.

ATLANTA HAWKS 1990-91 SEASON PROSPECTUS

by Bob Weiss, Head Coach

After missing the NBA playoffs for the first time in five seasons, the 1990-91 edition of the Atlanta Hawks enters the season with several questions. While we are hopeful of providing solutions to those questions, we are still confident that this team can challenge for the NBA title.

We have a great talent base with this team, and although I am not sure the direction we are going to take immediately, we must examine the present personnel and makeup of the team and come to the right conclusions towards our future. At this point, we cannot say what changes will take place regarding the Hawks, but while we are not looking to dismantle things totally, there could be room for improvement in certain areas.

Beginning with our three 1990 draft choices, we believe we have obtained three quality players that have the opportunity to make this team. First-round pick Rumeal Robinson exhibited tremendous leadership abilities at the University of Michigan and a determination to succeed in overcoming several obstacles. He gives us a different dimension at the guard position and I foresee nothing but great things in the future for him in this league.

We feel we improved our defensive situation with the selection of second-round picks Trevor Wilson and Stephen Bardo. It is an area we would like to improve upon this season and both players should help us in that regard. The trio of rookies all hail from winning backgrounds and we expect that attitude to continue this year with the Hawks.

I expect the Hawks to play an open style in which we're pushing the ball up the court, taking advantage of breaks, and also implementing and refining our half-court game. As followers of NBA basketball are aware, you must be able to execute down the stretch because every possession becomes crucial. So I would like to blend that into the running and motion game to the best of our abilities.

Defensively, I would like to keep the opposition guessing as to what we are doing. And what I mean by that, is using a variety of defenses and traps to force them to change what they are accustomed to doing.

The nucleus for great things is already here in Atlanta, and it begins with long-time veterans Dominique Wilkins, Moses Malone and Glenn "Doc" Rivers. We are looking for a dedicated effort from them because they accounted for 48 percent of the Hawks offensive production last year. It is important that they continue to take advantage of their individual skills and understand the importance in helping this team get better.

While roster changes are possible prior to the start of the 1990-91 season, we are expecting to reestablish ourselves in the Central Division and the Eastern Conference after last year's disappointing finish. Despite finishing only two games shy of the playoffs, most of the players I've had the opportunity to talk to this off-season expressed their desires to return to the level attained by this franchise over the previous five seasons. We could suffer some growing pains along the way, but the entire organization is striving to capture that ultimate goal and that's an NBA championship for the Atlanta Hawks.

PLAYER PERSONNEL GUIDE

ACTIVE LIST: The maximum number of active players is 12, the minimum is 11. At no time shall a team be permitted to dress fewer than eight players for a regular game or nine for a playoff game. During the off-season and training camp, teams may carry no more than 20 active players.

INJURED LIST: A player transferred to the injured list and replaced by another player due to injury or illness, must stay there for no fewer than five games.

TEN-DAY CONTRACT: On or after the 56th day following the first game, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract. This procedure may be used only to replace a player assigned to the injured list. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day agreements.

TRADING DEADLINE: No trades are permitted after 9:00 p.m. Eastern time on February 21, 1991. From that point to the end of the regular season, player additions must be made thru the waiver procedure, or by signing free agents.

WAIVERS: From August 15 to the end of the regular season, clubs may claim waived players within 48 business hours after notice. Players waived at any other time, may be claimed within 10 days. If no teams claims the waived player, he becomes a free agent.

GUARANTEED CONTRACT: On the 56th day of the regular season, all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

RENUNCIATION OF AMATEUR ELIGIBILITY: A person who is at least 17 years of age and whose high school class has graduated shall become eligible for the college draft if he renounces his intercollegiate basketball eligibility by written notice to the NBA at least 45 days prior to the draft. Prior to the 45 days before the draft, teams may not make direct contact with players who have intercollegiate basketball eligibility left. Clubs may contact players without remaining eligibility, but may not discuss compensation.

Here's hoping that you enjoy your visit to the Omni, and once again, if there is anything we can do to assist you, plese don't hesitate to ask.

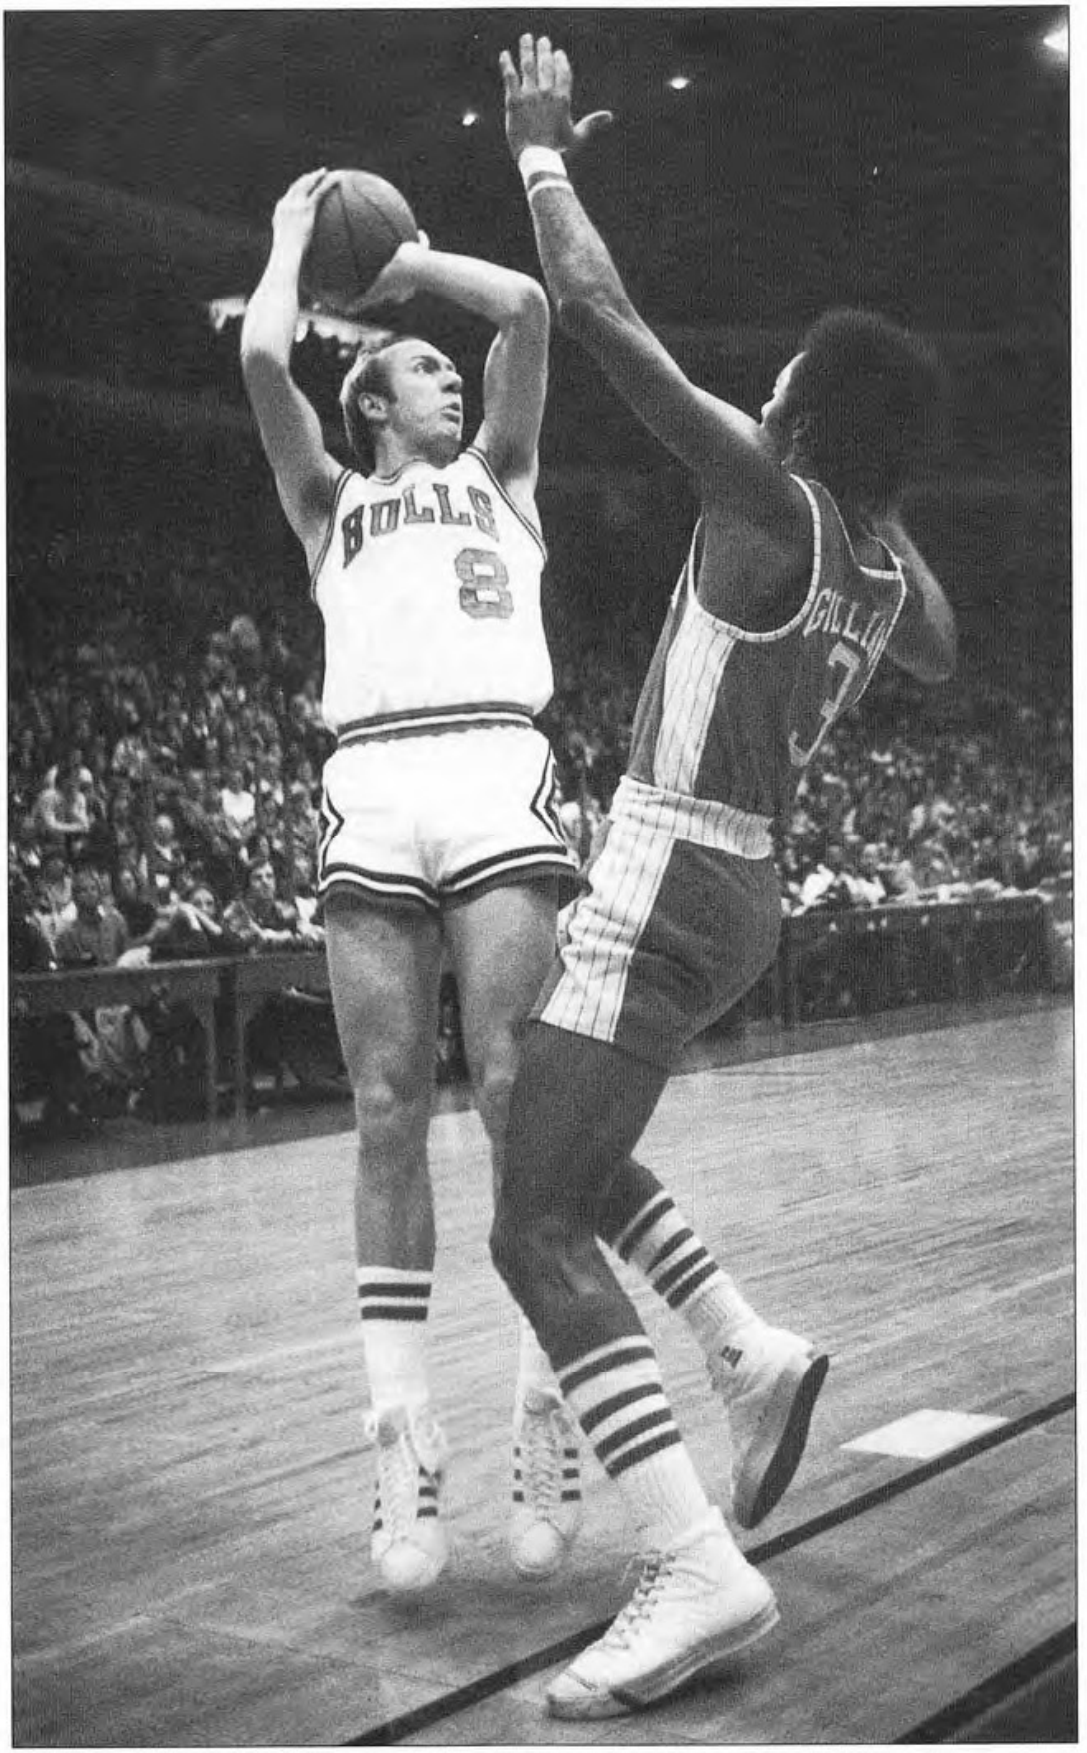
ADMINISTRATION/COACHING STAFF



R.E. TURNER
Owner, Atlanta Hawks, Ltd.

Although the question may be posed, "What is there left for Ted Turner to accomplish?," the 51-year-old entrepreneur is not quite ready to rest on his laurels. In fact, the best of Turner may be yet to come.

Turner, the Chairman of the Board and President of Turner Broadcasting System, Inc. (TBS), also owns and operates the following properties: TBS SuperStation; Turner Network Television (TNT); Cable News Network (CNN); CNN HEADLINE NEWS; CNN Radio; Turner Program Services; Turner Entertainment Company; Turner Home Entertainment; World Championship Wrestling, Inc.; Turner Omni Ventures; SportSouth; the Major League Baseball's Atlanta Braves; and the National Basketball Association's Atlanta Hawks.

Most, if not all, of Turner's acquistions have occurred over the last 20 years, beginning with the purchase of Channel 17, an Atlanta independent UHF television station, in 1970. Six years later (1976), the Federal Communications Commission approved the use of a satellite-relay system to allow the importation of distant television signals by local cable TV companies, which allowed Turner the right to create WTBS-TV, "The SuperStation," regarded by many as the prototype cable television station.

The SuperStation, which is carried in all 50 states and in over 45 million homes, was the showcase for the Braves, which was purchased by Turner in January 1976, and one year later, the Hawks. The network brought professional sports to areas void of teams, and helped establish cable television as a viable source of sports programming.

Another project of major proportions that many said could not be done is Turner's Cable News Network, which began broadcasting June 1, 1980. A 24-hour, year-round, all-news network, CNN has rightly taken its place among the news and information giants of the world, offering more depth, immediacy and flexibility than other networks whose format does not allow full-time news reporting.

As an adjunct to CNN, Turner established CNN Headline News in 1982, a shorter version of the full CNN format, that updates major news stories, while adding new events, on a 30-minute cycle that allows viewer access to the world's top stories throughout the day. In addition, CNN Radio (which began April 1982), an audio version of CNN, has also been accepted by many radio stations across the nation.

Locally, Turner's ownership of the Hawks and Braves has brought stability to Atlanta's sports scene. His willingness to do what must be done for success has made both franchises winners over his tenure, as the Braves captured the National League's Western Division title in 1982, while the Hawks earned two Central Division crowns in 1979-80 and 1986-87.

His enthusiasm for sports led him to create the Goodwill Games, a quadrennial, summer, multi-sport international competition, in partnership with the U.S.S.R. State Committee for Physical Culture and Sport (Goskomsport), and TBS. The 1986 Games marked the first meeting in 10 years of international competition between the United States and the Soviet Union. While the first Goodwill Games were held in Moscow, the 1990 event took place in Seattle, Washington.

As a participant in sporting events, Turner posted a world-class career in yachting, capping an outstanding career by leading his "Courageous" crew to victory in the 1977 America's Cup competition. He was named Yachtsman of the Year for the third time by the New York Yacht Club on the strength of those wins, and in 1978, he won the award for the fourth time in his career.

Turner finds time between all of his holdings to have an active role in community affairs, as evident by his role as Chairman of the Board of The Better World Society, a non-profit organization dedicated to the production and international distribution of television programming on issues of critical importance to the survival of this planet.

In addition, Turner serves on the boards of several civic organizations, including the Martin Luther King, Jr. Center for Nonviolent Social Change and the Atlanta Chapter of the NAACP.

In March 1986, Turner negotiated the purchase of the massive MGM-United Artists communications giant, retaining the voluminous MGM film library, while dealing other components of MGM-UA to bolster the financial footing of Turner Broadcasting.

Continuing the growth of his cable television enterprise, in October 1988, TBS launched Turner Network Television (TNT) in 17 million homes, which was at that time the largest network launch in cable history. Currently boasting 30 million-plus subscribers, TNT is the exclusive cable home of NBA Basketball, and this season will share (with ESPN) cable coverage of the National Football League.

On September 27, 1989, the first sale of Olympics programming to cable was made when CBS Sports sold the rights to 50 hours of coverage from the 1992 Winter Games in Albertville, France, and the 1994 Winter Games in Lillehammer, Norway, to TNT.

R.E. "Ted" Turner, born November 19, 1938 in Cincinnati, Ohio, graduated Brown University in Providence, R.I., where he was Commodore of the Yacht Club and Vice-President of the Debating Union.

And the rest, as they say, is history.

MICHAEL GEARON
Chairman, Board of Directors

What was supposed to be a two-week stay in September 1977 for Michael Gearon has developed into an active role with the Atlanta franchise. The 54-year-old Gearon continues the tasks he assumed in 1986 as the Hawks' Chairman of the Board of Directors.

In his 14th year with the club, he remains the Hawks' representative on the NBA Board of Governors, and for two seasons (1977-79), Gearon served as team president and general manager.

During his stint as general manager, he engineered the trades that brought Tom McMillen and the late Terry Furlow to Atlanta while overseeing a team that made the NBA playoffs in each of his two seasons as GM. With the acquistion of Dan Roundfield, Gearon's efforts paid off as Roundfield earned three All-Star Game selections.

Before his association with the Hawks, Gearon built one of the top real estate development companies in the United States, Gearon and Company, which implemented and executed the concept of office parks.

Three well-known Gearon projects in the Atlanta area include Executive Park, Perimeter Center and Coastal States, and through that association Gearon and Company became known as one of America's quality development companies.

In the early '70's, Gearon sold his interest in the development company to his partners in order to spend more time with his family and to travel. His association with Ted Turner through business led to his accepting the position with the Hawks in 1977.

A courtside regular, and perhaps the Hawks' most ardent supporter, J. Michael Gearon is the father of three children, Tierney, Michael, Jr., and Timothy. He makes his home in the northeast Atlanta area.

STAN KASTEN
President, Atlanta Hawks

With one of sports most-accomplished and high-level backgrounds, Stan Kasten, 38, begins his 14th season with the Atlanta Hawks. In addition to his present position as President of the Hawks, Kasten, since 1986, has also served as President of the Atlanta Braves and TBS Vice President for Sports.

The NBA's only back-to-back Executive of the Year (1986 and 1987), Kasten began his career as legal counsel for both the Hawks and Braves in 1976, before he was named Assistant General Manager of the Hawks, a position he held for two season (1977-79).

In November 1979, he became the youngest General Manager in NBA annals at the age of 27 and held the position for 11½ seasons, until he hired former Denver executive Pete Babcock as his replacement in February 1990. Under his direction, the Hawks made tremendous strides on the court and at the gate over the last five years, as the team posted four straight 50-win seasons and playoff berths, and set team records in attendance.

His aggressiveness as General Manager proved beneficial in many of his dealings with other NBA clubs, which include the acquisition and signing of Dominique Wilkins in 1982, while sending two players (John Drew and Freeman Williams) and cash to Utah, obtaining Rory Sparrow from New Jersey in 1981 for a fourth-round pick, and the rights to Antoine Carr, Cliff Levingston and two future picks from Detroit in exchange for Dan Roundfield in 1984.

In a surprising, yet beneficial move in 1984-85, Kasten engineered the move of 12 Atlanta home games to New Orleans, which resulted in more than $1 million to the franchise.

Active in international competition in his role with TBS, he was instrumental in the development of the four-city American/Soviet All-Star team tour that brought American and Soviet players together on the same team for the first time, and in the summer of 1988, the Hawks were the first NBA team to visit the U.S.S.R.

Kasten, who has served on the NBA's Marketing Committee, Player Pension Committee and Expansion Committee, is also a member of the Hawks' Board of Directors, a member of the NBA Board of Governors, and a trustee of the Basketball Hall of Fame.

Born February 1, 1952 in Lakewood, N.J., Kasten attended Rutgers University before transferring to New York University (NYU) where he graduated in 1973 with a degree in psychology, earned Magna Cum Laude honors and was chosen Phi Beta Kappa. He received a Juris Doctor degree from Columbia Law School in 1976.

Stan Kasten and his wife Helen live in Sandy Springs with their four children, Alana, Corey, Sherry and Jay. An admitted TV addict, he enjoys Italian food and participating in several off-season softball and baseball leagues. He is also on the Board of Directors of the Sports Lawyers Association and the Richard Allen Outreach Center, a crisis hotline service.

PETE BABCOCK
Vice President/General Manager

One of the NBA's highly-respected front office individuals, Pete Babcock was named Vice President/General Manager of the Hawks on February 14, 1990, taking over the basketball operations duties from Stan Kasten, who retained his title of team president.

The 40-year-old Babcock, who came to Atlanta from the Denver Nuggets, will oversee the daily management and direction of the basketball team, including the procurement of players through trades and the collegiate draft.

While Babcock concluded his 5½ seasons in Denver as the team's general manager, he also held the positions of director of player personnel, vice president of basketball operations and president/general manager during his tenure.

His system for analyzing college and professional players not only involved basketball in terms of skills, but also includes a series of testing, both physical and mental. His approach puts each player through an exhaustive screening process coupled with extensive research into his background, giving the staff plenty of information on the "total" player.

Hired in 1980 by the Los Angeles Clippers as an assistant coach, Babcock was elevated to the position of player personnel director two years later then became vice president of basketball operations in 1984. He joined the Nuggets following the 1983-84 season.

A political science major at Arizona State, he earned his masters from ASU in 1976 and instead of pursuing his political aspirations, he began coaching and teaching at the high school level in Phoenix. During that development, his interest in NBA scouting increased and led to part-time positions with the New Orleans Jazz (1975) and Los Angeles Lakers (1977). From 1978-80, he scouted the Western Conference for the Milwaukee Bucks then joined the Clippers as an assistant coach.

Actively involved in community-related matters, Babcock has worked on substance abuse and gang-related issues in the Denver area and in 1989 spoke before a Congressional subcommittee on the topic of increasing the budget for the National Institute on Drug Abuse.

He and his wife, Yo, have two daughters, Amy and Katie.

BOB WEISS
Head Coach, Atlanta Hawks

Describing himself as a "great believer in fundamentals and an up-tempo game that adapts to the players' talents," former NBA player and one-time head coach Bob Weiss was named the sixth full-time head coach in the history of the Atlanta Hawks on May 22, 1990.

"My style of coaching is to find out what my players can do and then let them do it," said Weiss at his first Atlanta press conference. "I most like to coach the up-tempo game and I believe we have the talent to play tha type of game."

The 48-year-old Weiss, who spent last season as an assistant with the Orlando Magic under Matt Guokas, begins his second stint as an NBA head coach after two seasons in San Antonio (1986-88). The Spurs, after compiling a 59-105 record under Weiss, replaced him with Larry Brown when the team changed ownership.

A third-round draft choice of Philadelphia in 1965, Weiss' career spanned 12 seasons with six teams–the 76ers, Seattle, Milwaukee, Chicago, Buffalo and Washington–averaging 7.6 points and 1.8 rebounds over that time and making 42.8% of his FGs and 82.8% from the free throw line. One of the league's "ironmen," he played in 783 total games and from 1968-74, participated in 538 consecutive games.

Probably his most notable seasons came during his tenure with the Bulls (1968-74) when he teamed with Norm Van Lier and present Utah Jazz coach Jerry Sloan to form one of the NBA's most competitive backcourt trios.

After his retirement in 1977, he began his coaching career as an assistant to San Diego (Clippers) coach Gene Shue where he served two years. He moved on to a similar position with the Dallas Mavericks in 1980 as their first and only assistant before heading to the Spurs in 1986.

A native of Nazareth, Pa., and born in neighboring Easton, Weiss was the 25th overall selection in the 1965 draft after graduating from Penn State University with a degree in physical education.

In his leisure, Weiss is considered to be a better-than-average magician and an intense competitor no matter the game–tennis, golf, card or chess.

Robert Weiss was born May 7, 1942 in Easton, Pa., and he and his wife Tracy are the parents of two children, Stuart Davis and Grace Louise.

KEVIN LOUGHERY
Assistant Coach

Making a return to the coaching ranks after spending several seasons behind the mike is former Hawks head coach Kevin Loughery, who begins his second stint with Atlanta as Bob Weiss' top assistant.

The 50-year-old Loughery, who last season served as the team's color analyst on TBS SuperStation, was head coach of the Hawks during the 1981-83 seasons and directed the franchise to two playoffs berths, compiling an 85-79 record (.518) in the process. Over his NBA coaching career, his overall record is 341-503 (.404).

No stranger to professional basketball followers, Loughery's association consists of 27 years in various capacities–11 as a player and 16 as a head coach, including three years with the American Basketball Association's New York (now New Jersey) Nets (1973-76).

He averaged 15.3 points and 3.0 rebounds over his career, hitting 41.3% of his FG attempts and 80.3% from the FT line. A second-round pick (13th overall) by the Detroit Pistons in the 1962 Draft, Loughery also played for the Baltimore Bullets and Philadelphia 76ers.

Following his playing days, he became the head coach of the Sixers for the remainder of the 1972-73 season, posting a 5-26 mark. The next year, he joined the ABA's Nets and coached them to the league championship in his first season (1973-74), and continued in that position when the Nets joined the NBA under the ABA/NBA merger.

After eight years with the Nets, Loughery was named head coach of the Hawks on May 21, 1981 and two years later, he journeyed to Chicago for a similar job with the Bulls (1983-85) before joining the Washington Bullets as their head coach in March 1986 (1986-88).

In addition to his TV role with the Hawks, he has also worked for TNT and CBS Sports, and the Detroit Pistons and Los Angeles Clippers broadcast teams.

Kevin Michael Loughery, who played collegiately at Boston College and St. John's (14.1 scoring average in college), and his wife Sheila reside in Atlanta and they have two sons, Kevin and Steven. He was born March 28, 1940 in Brooklyn, N.Y.

JOHNNY DAVIS
Assistant Coach

Bringing his talents to the bench after seasons on the hardwood and in the front office is 34-year-old Johnny Davis, who previously served the Hawks as an Assistant to the President and Director of Community Affairs.

He completed his third year with the responsibilities in the community service area last season and was given additional duties in November 1989 as an assistant to team president Stan Kasten.

A 10-year NBA veteran, Davis was a second-round choice (22nd overall) as a hardship case by the Portland Trailblazers in 1976. He spent two seasons in Portland, earning a championship ring his rookie season as the Trailblazers defeated the Philadelphia 76ers for the first-ever NBA title.

After four seasons in Indiana (1978-82), he was traded to Atlanta in December 1982, where he averaged 15.2 points in his first stint in the Hawks back court (1982-84). He rejoined the club during the final portion of the 1986 season after a year-and-a-half stay with Cleveland (1984-86), and concluded his career averaging 12.9 points and 4.5 assists, hitting 44.8% of his FG attempts and 82.1% FTs.

Davis, who played collegiately at the University of Dayton and averaged 19.3 points over his career, earned his business and community development degree from Georgia State University in 1987. Involved with various civic-related activities in the Atlanta area, he and his wife Lezli have two children, Reginald and Austin.

Johnny Reginald Davis was born in Detroit on October 21, 1955.

JOE O'TOOLE
Trainer

Beginning his 22nd year of service with the Hawks is trainer Joe O'Toole, whose three decades with the Atlanta franchise ranks as the longest tenure of any member of the organization.

The 53-year-old O'Toole has a lengthy list of achievements from his years with the Hawks. He was the inaugural winner of the Trainer-of-the-Year Award from the National Basketball Trainers Association in 1983, named to the NBA All-Star staff on three occasions (1975, 1978 and 1990), and served as the trainer and traveling secretary on the 1987 NBA exhibition tour for the American/Soviet All-Star team.

A member of the NBTA's Executive Committee for 16 seasons, O'Toole served as chairman of the organization for four years, and is also a member of the NBA Commissioner's Drug Prevention and Education Committee.

He was a two-sport (football and track) athlete at Courtland State, where he graduated in 1960 with a degree in physical education. He earned his masters degree (health education/athletic training) at Indiana in 1967, and in addition he received a certificate in physical therapy from the Mayo Clinic in 1964.

Joseph William O'Toole, born November 24, 1936 in Syracuse, N.Y., and his wife Rosemary live in Stone Mountain with their two daughters. His hobbies include eating ice cream and pizza, as well as fishing and sailing.

ED BADGER
Scout

With close to a 40-year association with the game of basketball, the Hawks organization feels Ed Badger's experience will prove beneficial. The 57-year-old Badger has been involved in basketball since 1953 as either a coach or scout and has met success in each of those years.

After assisting Atlanta's coaching staff during preparations for the 1990 NBA Draft as a consultant, he was named a scout on July 1, 1990.

Prior to joining the Hawks, Badger was an assistant coach and Director of Basketball Administration with the Charlotte Hornets during their first two seasons in the league (1988-90).

A three-year association (1985-88) with the Boston Celtics as Chief Scout and as an assistant coach earned Badger a NBA championship ring in 1987-88. He was also during that time chosen by the league to train the Chinese National Team, which finished ninth in the world under his guidance.

Before joining the Celtics, he was an assistant coach for the Cleveland Cavaliers and was responsible for the development of the squad's younger players.

While serving as head coach at the University of Cincinnati for five seasons, Badger compiled a 68-71 record and was named the Metro Conference Coach of the Year in 1980-81, when he led the Bearcats to a 16-13 record and a second-place finish in the post-season tournament.

His only stint as an NBA head coach came with the Chicago Bulls (1976-78), and in his initial season (1976-77), he led the Bulls to a 44-38 finish and a berth in the playoffs. For his efforts, he was the runnerup in the balloting for the league's coach of the year award. His two-year record in Chicago was 84-80 (.512).

Badger originally joined the Bulls in 1974 as the team's head scout before becoming the head coach on August 25, 1976.

Included among coaching responsibilities was a 16-year tenure as head coach of Wilbur Wright Junior College in Chicago (W-L record, 353-110), where he earned four National JuCo Coach of the Year honors. He was inducted into the NJCAA Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame on January 28, 1986.

A native of West New York, NJ, Badger graduated from the University of Iowa in 1953 where he played varsity basketball under Bucky O'Connor. He then began his coaching career at St. Mary's High School in Iowa City and, after serving in the Air Force, he moved to Wilbur Wright in 1959.

He and his wife Juanita have four children: Jacqueline, Steven, Diane and Van.

LEE DOUGLAS
Executive Vice President

The commitment shown towards the Hawks is evident in the person of Lee Douglas, a longtime employee who was rewarded with the appointment to the position of Executive Vice President last November 1989 by team president, Stan Kasten.

Entering his 13th season with the Hawks, Douglas has served in many different capacities with the club, with his current responsibilities including the direction of the business, marketing, public relations, broadcasting and ticket operations.

Instrumental in arranging Atlanta's 62-game (non-national network) television package with Turner Sports, local affiliate WGNX-TV and the new Turner regional sports station, SportSouth, he was also involved in Hawks 1990-91 marketing campaign, "Let's Run One."

Since joining the Hawks in 1978, the 38-year-old Douglas has held positions as sales representative, director of sales, director of marketing, vice president/marketing and vice president/assistant general manager until his most recent position.

A 1974 graduate (industrial management) of Georgia Tech, he earned his MBA in 1978 from Georgia State University.

Douglas, who enjoys playing softball in his leisure, and his wife Nancy live in Stone Mountain with their two children, Brent and Kelly. Charles Lee Douglas was born August 23, 1952 in Atlanta.

BOB WOLFE
Vice-President/Business Manager

Bob Wolfe begins his sixth season with the Hawks, and his third as the team's Vice-President/Business Manager. Wolfe, who joined the club as business manager in 1985, previously served five seasons in the accounting department of the Atlanta Braves. He is responsible for the financial and administrative operations with the Hawks.

The 33-year-old Wolfe graduated from Oglethorpe University in 1980 with a degree in business administration. A four-year letterman in basketball at Oglethorpe, he was named to the school's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1989.

Robert E. Wolfe, who was born January 3, 1957 in Albany, N.Y., resides in Norcross.

HAWK TIDBITS

THE LEAGUE'S BEST...Forward Bob Pettit is the only Hawks (St. Louis) player to win the NBA's Most Valuable Player award. The 6-9 Pettit captured the honor twice, in 1955-56 and 1958-59.

FRANK TIMMERMAN
Director of Corporate Sales and Promotions

Another of the Hawks' veterans, Frank Timmerman enters his 13th season after joining the sales department as one of its representatives in 1977. Since that time, he has also served nine years as director of sales, in addition to two as a sales representative.

His responsibilities as the Director of Corporate Sales and Promotions include the supervision of promotions, advertising sales and game operations. In addition to his role with the Hawks, he also serves in a similar capacity with the Omni Coliseum (since August 1989).

Timmerman, 45, graduated from Furman University in 1967 with a degree in political science, and obtained his masters degree (Divinity) from the Southern Seminary in 1972.

Born October 28, 1945 in Augusta, Frank Elbert Timmerman, Jr., resides in Atlanta and he has two children, Angela and Maria.

ARTHUR TRICHE
Director of Public Relations

Entering his second year as Atlanta's Director of Public Relations, Arthur Triche came to the Hawks from the NFL's Detroit Lions, where he spent one season as the team's assistant director of public relations. Triche, 29, is responsible for managing the Hawks media services and game day press operations.

A 1983 graduate of Tulane University (communications/liberal arts), he spent three years as the school's assistant sports information director upon graduation and joined Louisiana State's (LSU) sports information department in a similar capacity in 1986 before going to the Lions in 1988.

He has also gained related experience through his involvement with the 1984 Los Angeles Summer Olympics and the 1985 National Sports (now Olympic) Festival.

Arthur Triche, Jr., who was born August 16, 1961 in Mound Bayou, Miss., and his wife Velma, reside in Marietta with their son Brandon.

TRACY WHITE
Director of Group Sales

In his fourth season with the Hawks is Tracy White, who begins his third year as the Director of Group Sales. White, 25, joined the organization in May 1987 as an account representative before his promotion to his current position.

His responsibilities include the formulation of ticket plans for groups and future marketing strategies for potential prospects and incentive ideas for the sales staff.

A 1987 graduate of Marshall University, Tracy Andrew White majored in marketing and the Huntington, W. Va. native was born September 17, 1965. He currently resides in Norcross.

MEL PENDER
Director of Community Affairs

An experienced individual with an extensive background in the business field and public service areas, former Olympic standout Mel Pender was named the Hawks' new Director of Community Affairs on September 7, 1990, replacing Johnny Davis, who joined Bob Weiss' coaching staff as an assistant.

The 52-year-old Pender was a Gold Medalist on the USA's 4x100-meter relay team in the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City as he and teammates Charlie Green, Ronnie Ray Smith and Jim Hines established a then-world record time of 38.2 seconds. A participant in the 1964 Games as well, he also currently owns world bests in the 50- and 60-yard dashes, and at one time, posted world record times in the 100-yard dash (9.1) and 100-meter dash (10.0).

Pender comes to the Hawks after a 10-year career as the Southeast Regional National Coordinator for the National Association of Homebuilders. Under his direction, the Manpower and Training Development Division placed first out of six regions for seven years in training and placement of job corp members.

Born in Atlanta (October 31, 1937), Pender earned a degree in social science from Adelphi University (Long Island, NY) in 1976 and retired from the U.S. Army in the same year as a captain after 21 years of active duty. A commanding officer in the 82nd Airborne, he earned a Bronze Star from his service in Vietnam, and served as the U.S. Military Academy's head track coach from 1970-76.

After four years in the business sector, Pender worked as an athletic administrator for the NFL Players Association, where he served three years as the organization's Youth Development Director (1980-83), managing all fund-raising efforts through local social and supportive service agencies.

His career accomplishments include being named to the Georgia State Sports Hall of Fame (1984) and National Black Hall of Fame (1975), as well as being a lifetime member of the Atlanta Track Club. He has also been involved with civic organizations like the National Negro Golf Association, Georgia Special Olympics, Georgia Criminal Justice Coordination Council, 100% Wrong Club and a member of the Community Relations Board of the Atlanta Job Corps Center.

Pender, who resides in the Marietta area, has four children.

RECORD SCORING TOTALS, PART ONE...Atlanta has scored team record 42-point victories on two occasions (Nov. 30, 1967...Hawks 129, San Diego 87, Apr. 5, 1989...Hawks 135, Philadelphia 93), while the biggest loss was a 47-point deficit against the 76ers on December 8, 1982 (132-85).

HAWKS BROADCASTERS

STEVE HOLMAN
Hawks Radio Announcer

Beginning his sixth season as a member of the Hawks Broadcast Team, Steve Holman will man the play-by-play mikes for his second full season on the Atlanta Hawks Radio Network.

The 36-year-old Holman, who is also the sports director of Newsradio 640 WGST in Atlanta, had done play-by-play and color commentary on the Hawks Network for 3½ seasons before taking over the play-by-play responsibilities full-time in 1989.

Holman, who has been involved in the NBA since the early 1970's when he was broadcast assistant to Boston's legendary Johnny Most, came to Atlanta's WGST in 1980.

He has also worked as a color announcer for the Atlanta Falcons, and handled the play-by-play on radio for the Atlanta Chiefs soccer.

Along with numerous awards for sports reporting, Holman has won the Georgia Associated Press Award for his Hawks play-by-play coverage for the past two seasons.

Holman and his wife Mary Jane reside in Alpharetta with their two children, Steve, Jr., and Scott.

SKIP CARAY
TBS/Hawks Network Play-By-Play

Skip Caray is best known as a member of the telecast team for Turner Sports' coverage of NBA games on TNT and Atlanta Braves baseball on TBS. He joined TBS in 1972 as the voice of the Atlanta Hawks and was added to the Braves' telecasts in 1976. Most recently, he served as play-by-play voice for the 1990 Goodwill Games baseball competition.

Caray came to sports announcing naturally as the son of Harry Caray, the legendary Chicago Cubs play-by-play announcer, and began broadcasting while he was still in high school. When a knee injury ended his career as a linebacker with all-city honors, he went to work for KMOX-Radio in St. Louis, MO, as host of a 15-minute high school sports show and as a sportscaster for high school basketball games. He later joined his father as a color commentator for University of Missouri football.

In 1963, Caray moved out on his own as part of the broadcast team for baseball's Tulsa Oilers of the Texas League. He also has announced for the Atlanta Crackers in baseball's Southern League and for St. Louis University basketball. He joined the NBA St. Louis Hawks broadcasting team in 1967, moving to Atlanta with the team the following year.

One of the country's most versatile sports announcers, Caray has broadcast boxing at the 1986 Goodwill Games, Florida State college football, soccer, pre-season Atlanta Falcons football, TBS Sports' prime-time college football and Atlanta Flames hockey, as well as the Braves and the Hawks. His expertise has been recognized with six Georgia Sportscaster of the Year Awards from the National Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association and a Georgia-area Emmy. In addition, he has devoted many hours to volunteer work, serving as state chairman for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and working for the Spina Bifida Association.

Caray was born in St. Louis, MO. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri with honors in journalism.

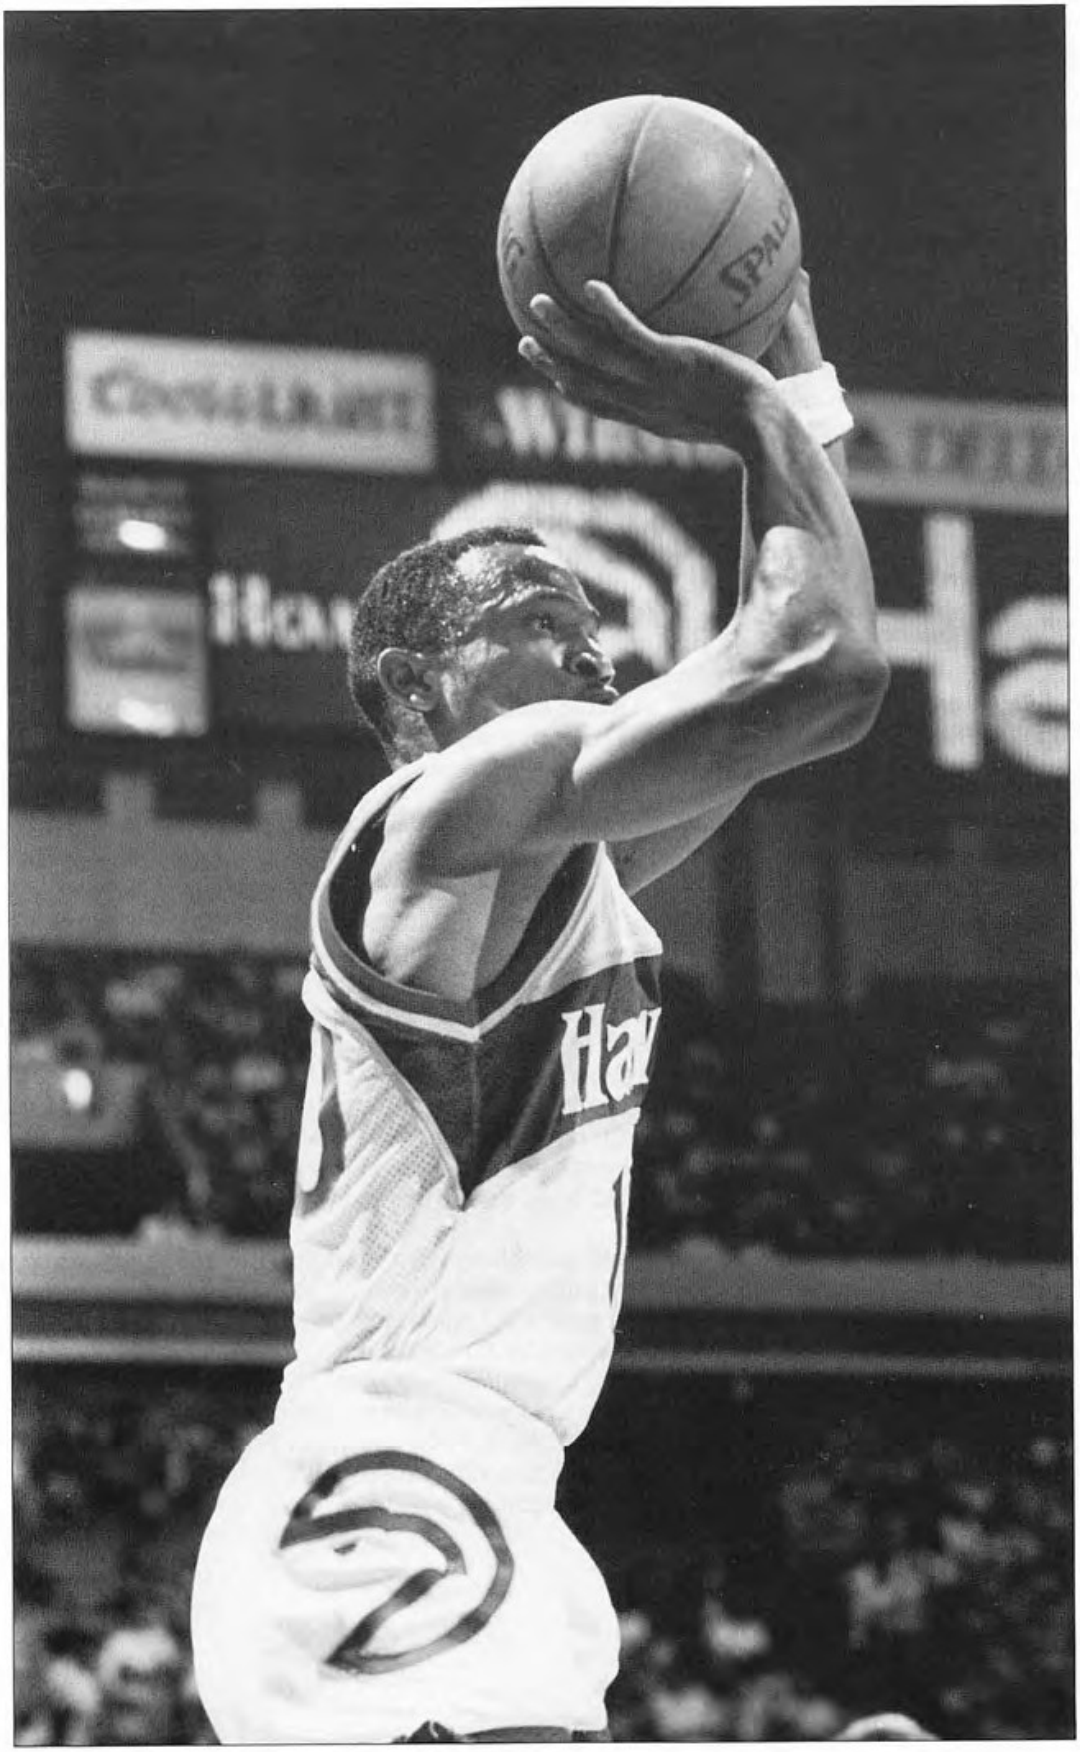
HAWKS PLAYERS



• 10 • JOHN BATTLE

Position: Guard HT.: 6-2 WT.: 175 Age: 28
High School: McKinley, Washington, D.C.
College: Rutgers '85
Experience: Five years Birthdate: 11-9-62
Birthplace: Washington, DC Residence: Hyattsville, MD

HOW JOHN BECAME A HAWK: A fourth-round selection in the 1985 NBA Draft, Battle was the 84th overall pick.

LAST SEASON (1989-90): Endured an injury-plagued season which caused him to miss a total of 22 games (sprained left knee) and to see action in a career-low 60 ... After missing a majority of preseason games because of problems with his right knee, Battle was out of commission (six games) after Portland's Kevin Duckworth fell on his left knee in early December ... Continuing pain forced him to undergo arthroscopic surgery in early January (1-4) which kept him out of the lineup for 16 contests ... The Hawks posted an 8-14 record in his absence ... After earning the starting shooting guard position for the first time in his career, Battle began the season on a tear, averaging 13.5 points, 2.6 assists and 2.5 rebounds during November – his best monthly effort of the year ... Ended the final month (April) on a 56.1% FG pace ... The Hawks' fifth-leading scorer, Battle led the team in scoring on one occasion, equalling his career-high with a 27-point performance vs. Utah (12-1) ... He also made a season-high 10-of-13 FGs in that game ... He scored in double figures on 36 occasions and made 50% or better FGs 35 times ... On the season, Battle averaged 10.9 points (career-high), 2.6 assists and 1.7 rebounds, and converted 50.6% FGs (third-best on team and a career-high) and 75.6% FTs.

PROFESSIONAL CAREER: Battle enters his sixth season averaging 8.3 points, 2.1 assists and 1.4 rebounds, and his career FG% is .467 and FT% is .766 ... He became the lowest draft pick (#84) to make the Hawks roster since Herb White (#133) did it in 1970-71 ... After seeing action as a reserve during his first 2 1/2 seasons, Battle scored a career-high 27 points in his second pro start (2-1-87) against Houston, a total he has matched four additional times ... Until last year, his best season came in 1987-88 when he averaged 10.6 points and scored a career-high 27 points on three occasions (12-4 vs. Nets, 12-19 vs. Jazz, and 12-30 at Cavs) ... He also set personal bests in FGs made that season with 12 (12-30 at Cavs), in FTs made with 10 (12-4 vs. Nets), and rebounds with seven (1-9 vs. Nuggets) ... Battle missed two games in 1986-87 with the flu, missed 15 games in 1987-88 (2-11/3-15) due to a hepatitis infection ... The following year (1988-89), he was one of two players to see action in all 82 games ... Battle has missed a total of 73 games over his career (injury, illness or coaches decision) ... Has scored in double figures 132 times and led team in scoring four times.

COLLEGIATE CAREER: An honorable mention All-America in his final two years at Rutgers, Battle led the Atlantic-10 in scoring in both seasons enroute to earning first-team All-Conference honors ... He concluded his career as Rutgers' 10th all-time leading scorer (1,385 points for a 12.1 average) ... He was coached by Tom Young.

PERSONAL INFO: John Sidney Battle has a degree in criminal justice from Rutgers ... His nicknames are "J.B.," "Cricket," and "Pickle" ... A close friend of singer Regina Belle, he taught himself how to play the piano ... In addition to spending most of his summer in Washington, D.C., he resides in Marietta, Ga., during the season.

• 32 • JON KONCAK

Position: Center HT.: 7-0 WT.: 250 Age: 27
High School: Center, Kansas City, MO
College: SMU '85
Experience: Five years Birthdate: 5-17-63
Birthplace: Cedar Rapids, IA Residence: Atlanta, GA

HOW JON BECAME A HAWK: The fifth-pick (a lottery selection) overall, Koncak was Atlanta's first selection in the 1985 NBA Draft.

LAST SEASON (1989-90): It was without question a frustrating year for Koncak, who signed a long-term contract with the Hawks prior to last season and battled injured for much of the year ... As a result, he suffered statistically by posting career lows in virtual every category ... Koncak missed a total of 28 games (one by coaches decision) with a large portion (17) coming after he was placed on the injured list (2-1/3-6) after undergoing arthroscopic left knee surgery ... Scored a season-high 12 points at Celtics (11-10) ... Led team in rebounding four times, with a season-high 11 vs. Cavs (1-24) and Magic (1-27) ... Had one double-double on the year, and made 50% or better FGs 34 times ... Also scored in double figures three times and grabbed 10-or-more rebounds three times ... On the season, Koncak averaged 3.7 points, 4.2 rebounds and 0.4 assists, and made .614 FGs and .532 FTs.

PROFESSIONAL CAREER: In five NBA seasons, Koncak has averaged 6.2 points and 5.8 rebounds, and made .510 of his FGs and .604 from the FT line ... Ended the 1987-88 season in fine fashion, starting in the final 16 games and averaging 6.4 points on .693 FG shooting and 7.9 rebounds ... Played in all 82 games his first two years in Atlanta ... Scored a career-high 25 in 1987-88 against Denver (1-9), and his nine FGs made (of 10 attempts) tied a personal best ... As a rookie (1985-86), Koncak ranked second on the team in blocks with 69, which at that time was the third-best ever by a Hawks first-year player, while his 467 rebounds were the fifth-best ... He grabbed a career-high 20 rebounds at New York (12-28-85) ... Koncak enters this season among the Hawks all-time leaders in several categories: most blocked shots (5th), field goal percentage (8th), defensive rebounds (8th) and offensive rebounds (10th) ... He has totaled double figures over his career in scoring on 63 occasions and in rebounds 44 times, and led the Hawks in scoring twice and in rebounding 40 times ... Koncak has missed a total of 69 games in five years (injury, illness or coaches decision).

COLLEGIATE CAREER: In addition to concluding his SMU career as the all-time leader in rebounds, blocked shots and FG%, Koncak also finished as the school's second all-time leading scorer ... The all-time rebounding leader in Southwest Conference history, he was a two-time All-SWC player in his final two years and the league's MVP as a senior ... Also named second-team All-America by the AP and UPI as a junior and senior ... Koncak, a starter throughout his career, was coached by Dave Bliss.

PERSONAL INFO: Jon Francis Koncak majored in mechanical engineering at SMU ... His sister Julia played basketball at Texas Tech ... He was a member of the U.S. gold medal basketball team in the 1984 Summer Olympics ... His wife's name is Darlene and they have two children, Jessica and Alexandria Lynn ... Enjoys playing cards and golfing in his spare time ... His nickname is "Kak" ... Very involved with the Atlanta Boys Club and the local chapter of the United Way.

• 2 • MOSES MALONE

Position: Center HT.: 6-10 WT.: 255 Age: 35
High School: Petersburg (VA) '74
Experience: 14 years Birthdate: 3-23-55
Birthplace: Petersburg, VA Residence: Atlanta, GA

HOW MOSES BECAME A HAWK: Signed as a free agent to a three-year contract (8-16-88), Malone spent two seasons in Washington before joining the Hawks ... After he was selected as an undergraduate by the Utah Stars in the third round of the ABA Draft in 1974, his rights were sold to the Spirits of St. Louis (12-2-75) ... Malone was later chosen by Portland (NBA) from St. Louis in the ABA dispersal draft (8-5-76), but he was traded months later to Buffalo for a '78 first-round draft pick (10-18-76) ... Following six days in Buffalo, he was sent to Houston (10-24-76) for two first-round picks (1977 and 1978), where he spent close to six seasons ... He was signed by Philadelphia as a veteran free agent (9-2-82), but the offer was matched by Houston, who then traded Malone to the 76ers for Caldwell Jones and a 1983 first-round draft choice (9-15-82) ... After four years with the Sixers, he was traded along with Terry Catledge and two first-round picks (1986 and 1988) to Washington for Jeff Ruland and Cliff Robinson (6-16-86).

LAST SEASON: For the first time since his second NBA season (1977-78), Malone did not finish the campaign with a 20-10 average (points and rebounds) ... He had accomplished that feat for 11 straight seasons ... Malone appeared in 81 games last year, missing a road game at Washington (11-29) because of a sprained left knee ... He led the Hawks in scoring on 20 occasions and in rebounding 41 times, and had 39 double-doubles, in addition to leading the team in rebounding, finishing second in scoring and first in blocked shots (1.04) ... Scored a season-high 31 points three times (@Detroit (11-21), vs. Portland (12-8), vs. Bucks (1-2)) and grabbed 20 rebounds vs. Dallas (3-19) ... In that contest against Portland, Malone's 19 FTs made (of 22 attempts) was the third-highest total in a game by a Hawks player ... He made 50% or better FGs 40 times, while the Hawks record when he scored 20-or-more points was 27-15 ... They posted the same record when Malone had 10-or-more rebounds ... His best month of the season came in November when he averaged 21.1 points and 10.9 rebounds, and converted 52.8% from the field ... He also finished eighth (with Seattle's Michael Cage) in the NBA's rebounding race with a 10.0 mark ... He ended the season 132 points shy of reaching the 25,000-point plateau and 517 rebounds from the 15,000 level ... On the season, Malone averaged 18.9 points and 10.0 rebounds and hit .480% of his FG attempts and .781% of his FTs.

PROFESSIONAL CAREER: In two years with Atlanta, Malone has averaged 19.5 points and 10.9 rebounds, in addition to hitting .486 from the field and .785 from the FT line ... Over his 14-year career, he has garnered 23.0 points and 13.4 rebounds, with a FG% of .494 and FT% of .768 ... A three-time NBA Most Valuable Player (1979, '82 and '83), he has earned first-team All-NBA honors four times (1979, '82, '83, '85) and second-team All-NBA accolades four times, in addition to two appearances on the All-Defensive team (1979 and 1983) ... He was also named MVP of the 1983 Playoffs as he led the 76ers to the NBA title ... For the first time in 13 years, he was not selected to participate in the NBA All-Star Game last year ... Heading into the 1990-91 season, he ranked among the NBA All-Time leaders in games played (#9), minutes played (#8), FGs made (#9) and attempted (#10), FTs made (#2) and attempted (#2), rebounds (#5), blocks (#9), and points (#7) ... Among active leaders, Malone is listed in the following categories: points (#1), scoring average (#7), rebounds (#1), FGs made (#2) and attempted (#2), FTs made (#1) and attempted (#1), blocks (#5), minutes played (#1) and games played (#4) ... Additionally, he has not fouled out of a game in 965 straight games and if he is able to continue that string until the 80th and 81st games of this season, he will tie and break Wilt Chamberlain's record of 1,045 ... Malone, who played two years in the ABA (one each with Utah and St. Louis), was named to the ABA All-Rookie Team in 1975 ... He is one of three players to enter the pros directly from high school (Bill Willoughby and Darryl Dawkins were the others).

PERSONAL INFO: Moses Eugene Malone and his wife Alfreda live in Sugarland, Texas, during the off-season and they are the parents of two children.

• 40 • TIM McCORMICK

Position: Center HT.: 7-0 WT.: 240 Age: 28
High School: Clarkston High School, Clarkston, MI
College: Michigan '84
Experience: Six years Birthdate: 3-10-62
Birthplace: Detroit, MI

HOW TIM BECAME A HAWK: Obtained from Houston on September 27 along with John Lucas for Kenny Smith and Roy Marble, and future considerations for both teams ... He was originally selected 12th in the 1984 NBA Draft by Cleveland and traded immediately to Washington along with Cliff Robinson for Mel Turpin (6-19-84), and finally acquired along with Ricky Sobers by Seattle for Gus Williams on the same day.

LAST SEASON (1989-90): Plagued by knee injuries on separate occasions last year, McCormick saw action in only 16 games ... His problems began in the Rockets' next-to-last exhibition game at Boston (10-25) when he tumbled over Robert Parish ... He underwent surgery on his right knee November 1 to remove a partially torn lateral meniscus and wasn't activated from the injured list until November 30 after missing first 14 games ... The knee problems persisted over the next two weeks and he was placed back on the injured list to further re-habilitate his right knee on December 13, keeping him out of action until March 5 ... His best game of the year came at Utah (4-14) when he totalled six points and five rebounds ... On the year, McCormick averaged 1.7 points and 1.5 rebounds, and connected on .345 FGs and .526 FTs.

PROFESSIONAL CAREER: After six NBA seasons, McCormick has averaged 9.2 points and 5.4 rebounds, with .539 shooting from the field and .701 from the FT line ... As a rookie with the SuperSonics, he appeared in 78 games and scored 9.3 points and grabbed 5.1 boards... He made a career-high 57% of his FGs in his second year (1985-86) in addition to averaging 8.8 points and 5.2 rebounds ... The following season, McCormick was traded to the Sixers (along with Danny Vranes) for Clemon Johnson and a 1989 first-round pick (9-29-86) ... He spent one-and-a-half years with Philadelphia, posting a career season in his first campaign (1986-87) with 12.8-point and 7.5-rebound averages ... He concluded the 1987-88 season with New Jersey (obtained along with Roy Hinson and a 1989 second-round pick for Mike Gminski and Ben Coleman, 1-16-88) before he was sent to the Rockets (along with Tony Brown, Frank Johnson and Lorenzo Romar for Joe Barry Carroll and Lester Conner, 11-2-88).

COLLEGIATE CAREER: McCormick, who earned his degree in business from Michigan, played in 32 games as a senior for the Wolverines after fully recovering from knee surgvery, as he averaged 12.1 points and 5.9 rebounds, while shooting 58 percent from the field ... He capped his career as the MVP of the 1984 National Invitational Tournament, as he led Michigan to the NIT Championship ... Over his college career, McCormick averaged 9.9 points and 5.3 rebounds.

PERSONAL INFO: Timothy Daniel McCormick and his wife Michelle were married July 1, 1989... He has an interest in a broadcast career following his NBA days, and began the steps toward that future by doing daily NBA updates during the season for a Philadelphia radio station when he was with the Sixers ... Also runs a camp each summer in Michigan.

• 25 • GLENN "Doc" RIVERS

Position: Guard HT.: 6-4 WT.: 185 Age: 29
High School: Proviso East, Maywood, IL
College: Marquette '84
Experience: Seven years Birthdate: 10-13-61
Birthplace: Chicago, IL Residence: Atlanta, GA

HOW "Doc" BECAME A HAWK: The 31st player chosen overall, Rivers was the Hawks second-round pick in the 1983 Draft ... He entered the NBA Draft as an undergraduate-eligible.

LAST SEASON (1989-90): Many believed last year's disappointing finish for Atlanta coincided with Rivers' exit from the starting lineup because of back problems ... The trials for the Hawks team captain began with back spasms which caused him to miss a total of eight games on separate occasions, and as the pains continued he underwent surgery on a herniated disk in his lower back and was placed on the injured list for a total of 24 games ... As a result of all of the problems, Rivers did not see action in 34 games last year – the most games he had ever missed in Atlanta ... The Hawks were 13-21 in his absence ... Because of the lack of appearances, it was the first time in his pro career that Rivers did not lead the Hawks in assists or steals ... He did pace the team in three-point FG shooting, hitting 36.4%, and equalled a team record by nailing four at Philadelphia (4-10) ... With eight steals at Miami (11-24), Rivers tied his own team mark (also held by two others) ... He tallied a season-high 24 points twice (at Miami (12-21) and at Detroit (4-13), eight rebounds at New York (1-4) and dished out 16 assists at Golden State (4-1) ... Rivers also shot 50% or better FGs 21 times, and had three double-doubles (points/assists) ... On the season, he averaged 12.5 points (third on team), 4.2 rebounds and 5.5 assists (second on team), and connected on .454 FGs and .812 FTs.

PROFESSIONAL CAREER: After seven NBA seasons, Rivers has averaged 12.6 points and 3.6 rebounds, and converted .460 FGs and .775 FTs ... He is the only current Atlanta player to have earned a triple-double – and he has four ... The first and second came against Chicago (12-29-87, 29p/14r/10a, and 1-1-88, 19p/10a/10r) ... The last two happened vs. Portland (21p/14a/10r, 2-27-88) and at Milwaukee (20p/12r/10a, 4-19-89) ... The 14 rebounds against the Bulls and Trail Blazers are career highs ... Slowed by an intestinal virus in 1988-89, he scored 13.6 points and grabbed 3.8 rebounds, and concluded the season with 3,262 career assists, breaking Eddie Johnson's team record of 3,207 ... Currently Rivers has 3,526 assists ... Delivered a career-high season in 1987-88 when he finished second in scoring with a 14.2 average and fifth in the NBA in assists with 9.3 ... He also had a career-high 37 points against Seattle (2-4-88) ... Not only did he break the Hawks record for assists, but he set a new standard in steals as well in '88-'89, surpassing John Drew's 859 ... Rivers has 1,018 career thefts ... In addition, he ranks among the career leaders in the following categories: defensive rebounds (9th), personal fouls (9th), most disqualifications (10th) and blocked shots (9th) ... Over his career, he has scored in double figures 343 times and grabbed double-digit rebounds seven times ... He has also missed 85 games because of injury, illness or coaches decision ... Rivers earned his first Eastern Conference All-Star Game berth in 1988-89, scoring nine points and grabbing three boards.

COLLEGIATE CAREER: A three-year letterman at Marquette, Rivers led the Warriors in scoring, assists and steals in his final (junior year) season ... An honorable mention AP and UPI member in 1982-83, he was named MVP of the 1982 World Basketball Championships while leading the U.S. squad with an 18.6 average ... He was coached by Hank Raymonds at Marquette.

PERSONAL INFO: Glenn Anton Rivers, who earned his pre-law degree from Marquette in 1985, and his wife Kris are the parents of two children and they reside in the Atlanta area ... A three-time all-Illinois pick, he was a consensus high school All-America and Chicago Sun-Times Player-of-the-Year choice in 1979-80 ... Very loyal to his hometown Chicago Bears and White Sox ... "Doc" gained his nickname from former Warriors coach Rick Majerus when he wore a "Dr. J" t-shirt to a summer camp ... Rivers is the nephew of former NBA star Jim Brewer and the cousin of former Baltimore Oriole Ken Singleton ... A very active participant in community service, Rivers was chosen as the recipient of the J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award by the Professional Basketball Writers Association, given to the NBA player, coach or trainer involved in community-related activities ... Among the numerous speaking engagements he does during the year, he is also involved in the Sickle Cell Anemia Foundation, the Starlight Foundation, the Girls and Boys Clubs of Atlanta and the Atlanta Children's Center.

• 4 • ANTHONY "Spud" WEBB

Position: Guard HT.: 5-7 WT.: 133 Age: 27
High School: Wilmer-Hutchins, Dallas, TX
College: N.C. State '85
Experience: Five years Birthdate: 7-13-63
Birthplace: Dallas, TX Residence: Marietta, GA

HOW "Spud" BECAME A HAWK: A free agent signee by the Hawks on September 27, 1985, Webb was originally drafted by Detroit in the fourth round (87th pick overall) of the 1985 Draft.

LAST SEASON (1989-90): The backcourt injury to Doc Rivers opened the door for Webb, who had his finest season ever in the NBA ... Through the first month of year he was averaging 5.2 points and 4.1 assists and hitting only .426 of his FGs, but with more minutes in December Webb tallied 13.0 points, 7.1 rebounds and 3.9 rebounds and connected on .569 FGs ... In a nationally televised (CBS) game vs. Cleveland on Christmas Day, he scored a career-high and season-high 26 points on 12-of-14 FGs, dished out 12 assists and grabbed six rebounds enroute to earning player-of-the-game honors ... The 12 FGs made were also a personal high ... His numbers gradually declined over the remainder of the year as the Hawks backcourt situation improved with the return of Rivers and the acquistion of Kenny Smith ... He was the only Atlanta player to see action in all 82 games, and for the first time in his career led the Hawks in FT% and assists ... It enabled him to set seasonal career highs in the following categories: points scored (751), scoring average (9.1), steals (105), assists (477), rebounds (201), FGs made (294) and attempted (616), and FT percentage (.871) ... Webb posted double figures in scoring 37 times last season and nine double-doubles (points/assists) ... Shot 50% FGs or better 40 times ... On the season, he averaged 9.2 points, 5.8 assists and 2.5 rebounds, and made .477 FGs and .871 FTs (both career-highs).

PROFESSIONAL CAREER: After five NBA seasons, Webb has averaged 6.8 points, 4.9 assists and 1.8 rebounds, while hitting .472 from the field and .815 from the FT line ... Created all kinds of excitement as a rookie (1985-86), highlighted by winning the 1986 Slam Dunk crown (2-9) in his hometown of Dallas ... In his second NBA starting assignment two weeks later, Webb scored 23 points and passed out 13 assists against the LA Lakers (2-24-86) ... He missed most of the 1986-87 year with injuries (thigh bruise and torn lateral meniscus), appearing in only 33 games ... Webb had a career-high 15 assists against New Jersey (12-4-87) ... Suffered a personal scoring low in 1988-89, hitting only 3.9 points per game.

COLLEGIATE CAREER: A two-year starter at North Carolina State, Webb transferred to the Wolfpack after leading Midland (Tex.) Junior College to the 1982 National JUCO title ... He paced NCSU in assists in both seasons, concluding his career fourth among the all-time assists leaders ... Webb helped Midland to a 65-8 record during his two years there, and as a sophomore he was named first-team All-JUCO ... He was coached by Jim Valvano at NCSU.

PERSONAL INFO: Anthony Jerome Webb's nickname of "Spud" is a shortened version of "Sputnik," given to him as a baby ... He has a vertical leap of 42 inches ... A rabid football fan, Webb loves his hometown Dallas Cowboys ... In the USBL's version of "the long and short of it," he was a teammate of Manute Bol as both played for the Rhode Island Gulls ... Webb's family operates a food market in Dallas ... He recently hosted the sixth-annual Spud Webb Classic in Reunion Arena, which benefits the Boys Club of Dallas.

HOW DOMINIQUE BECAME A HAWK: A first-round choice (third pick overall) of Utah in the 1982 Draft, Wilkins was obtained from the Jazz on September 3, 1982 in exchange for John Drew, Freeman Williams and cash ... He entered the draft as a hardship (now early-entry) candidate.

LAST SEASON (1989-90): The fifth-leading scorer in the NBA last year, Wilkins' 26.7 average paced the Hawks for the sixth straight season, and for the first time since 1985-86 he led the squad in steals with 126 ... He was also selected to the Eastern Conference All-Star team for the fifth time in his career, posting 13 points and 4 assists in the 40th-annual game in Miami, and the night before Wilkins picked up his second Gatorade Slam-Dunk title (first coming in 1985), besting current teammate Kenny Smith (then of Sacramento) ... Not only did he lead the team in scoring 55 times during the season, he scored 20-or-more points 67 times, 30-or-more 24 times, and 40-or-more twice ... In a home win over Milwaukee (3-2), he drilled the Bucks for 44 points on 19-of-22 FGs (.864), setting season-highs in each category except FG attempts ... During Atlanta's playoff chase last year, Wilkins was on a tear over the last two months (25 games, March/April) by hitting .548 of his FGs and .788 from the FT line enroute to scoring 29.8 points, pulling down 6.4 rebounds and dishing out 2.6 assists ... When he scored 30-or-more points, the Hawks were 12-13, and when he totaled 20-or-more, the team posted a 36-30 mark ... Shot 50% FGs or better 33 times ... He was held to single-digit scoring totals twice, with a season-low four points at Indiana (2-21) ... He made .322 of his three-pointers – a career-high last year ... In addition to leading the team in rebounding 16 times, he garnered 16 double-doubles (10-or-more points/rebounds), with a season-high 15 boards at New Jersey (1-7) ... Tied a team record (held by two others) with four steals in the third quarter at Washington (11-29) ... Wilkins only missed two games over the course of the season to injury (ankle) ... On the season, he averaged 26.7 points, 6.5 rebounds (third on team) and 2.5 assists, and made .484 of his FGs (second-highest of his pro career) and .807 of his FT attempts.

PROFESSIONAL CAREER: Following nine years in the NBA, Wilkins has a career average of 26.1 points, 6.7 rebounds and 2.4 assists (.469 FGs, .804 FTs) ... Has scored less than 20 points in a season only once – in his rookie season – when he earned a 17.5 average ... He did convert a career-high .493 FGs that year (1982-83) ... His scoring average increased over the next three years as he won the 1985-86 league title with a 30.3-point mark, and was also named first-team All-NBA that same year ... No only has Wilkins placed among the top seven NBA scorers over the past six years, he holds six of the top seven single-game scoring games in Hawks history ... He has led Atlanta in scoring in 373 of the last 479 games he has appeared in (427 total times in his career), and during his career he has posted double figures in points 615 times and in rebounding 121 times ... Heading into the 1990-91 season, he ranks among the Hawks career leaders in the following categories: points and scoring average (2nd), FGs made (3rd) and attempted (2nd), FTs made (2nd) and attempted (3rd), three-point FGs made and attempted (1st), total rebounds (8th), steals (2nd) and blocked shots (3rd) ... The 35th all-time scorer in the NBA, he also owns the 7th-highest overall scoring average in league history, and 2nd among active players ... Wilkins has missed only 17 career games because of injury, illness or coaches decision ... A unanimous choice to the All-Rookie team in 1982-83, he was a runner-up in the Slam-Dunk competition in 1986 and 1988 – he also scored a personal-high 29 points in the '88 All-Star Game in Chicago.

COLLEGIATE CAREER: A first-team All-America (NBA Coaches, Basketball Times and Basketball Weekly) at Georgia in 1982, Wilkins also earned second-team honors from the Associated Press ... Despite leaving the Bulldogs after his junior year, he ended his career as the school's all-time leading scorer ... A three-time All-SEC player, he also earned the MVP award at the 1981 SEC Tournament ... He averaged 21.6 points and 7.5 rebounds over his career ... Wilkins' college coach was Hugh Durham.

PERSONAL INFO: Jacques Dominique Wilkins was born in France while his father was stationed in the Air Force ... His brother Gerald plays for the New York Knicks ... He was named to seven All-America teams as a senior in high school ... Track was an alternate sport for him ... Was named by TV Guide in 1986 as one of the NBA's five best interviews ... In his spare time, Wilkins enjoys playing tennis and listening to jazz music ... Recently opened his own nightspot, called "Dominique's" in downtown Atlanta ... He recently hosted the fourth annual Dominique Wilkins/United Negro College Fund Classic this past August at The Omni... His nicknames are "Zoid" and "the Human Highlight Film."

• 42 • KEVIN WILLIS

Position: Forward HT.: 7-0 WT.: 235 Age: 28
High School: Pershing, Detroit, MI
College: Michigan State '84
Experience: Five years Birthdate: 9-6-62
Birthplace: Los Angeles, CA Residence: Roswell, GA

HOW KEVIN BECAME A HAWK: Atlanta's first-round pick in the 1984 Draft, Willis was the 11th player chosen overall.

LAST SEASON (1989-90): Following a year's absence from the game because of injury (fifth metatarsal bone/left foot, 10-26-88), it should not have been surprising that it would take some time for Willis to feel comfortable with his game ... After posting some consistent numbers over the first two months of the year: 10.8 points and 6.3 rebounds (.498 FGs), his production dipped considerably during January (8.5 points and 6.6 rebounds, .431 FGs) before bouncing back in February ... The resurgence began with the trade of Antoine Carr to Sacramento (2-13) which finally alleviated the logjam at the forward position, and gave Willis a chance to increase his minutes and development ... One game following the transaction between the two teams, he scored a season-high 30 points on 13-of-18 FGs (4-5 FTs) against Orlando (2-16) ... The 13 FGs were a season-high also ... Over the last 34 games of the season, he averaged 14.4 points and 9.2 rebounds, and made .539 of his FGs ... The team's second leading rebounder, Willis pulled down a season-high 18 (and 13 defensive) at Boston (3-23) ... He led the Hawks in scoring four times during the year and 27 times in rebounding ... He also had 28 double-doubles (points/rebounds), and made 50% FGs or better 47 times ... Willis missed only one game last year (at 76ers) because of the flu ... On the season, he averaged 12.4 points (fourth on the team), 8.0 rebounds and 0.7 assists, and converted .519 FGs (team-high) and .683 FTs.

PROFESSIONAL CAREER: Willis has averaged 12.4 points and 8.1 rebounds after five NBA seasons, and has made .514 of his FGs and .673 of his FT attempts ... He had an outstanding personal season in 1986-87 when he scored 16.1 points and 10.5 rebounds (the first Hawk since Dan Roundfield in 1982-83 to average better than 10 rebounds), and shot .536 from the field and .709 from the line ... In addition, he recorded 45 double-doubles that year ... He posted career-high totals in points and rebounds against Denver (3-11-86) when he scored 39 points and grabbed 21 rebounds ... Two games prior, he also had 21 boards at Chicago (3-7-86) ... Despite leading the Hawks in rebounding the next season (1987-88) with a 7.3 average, Willis' numbers dropped in every category from the year before ... Careerwise, he has posted double figures in scoring 257 times and in rebounding 133 times, and has led the team in both areas 18 and 154 times respectively ... He has also missed a total of 91 games because of injury, illness or coach's decision ... Among the Hawks career records, Willis ranks among the leaders in FG% (5th), rebounding average (10th), offensive (5th) and defensive rebounds (6th), and blocked shots (8th).

COLLEGIATE CAREER: An honorable mention All-Big Ten player as a senior, Willis led the conference in rebounds and FG% as a junior ... He concluded his career as the school's sixth all-time leader in FG percentage ... Coached by Jud Heathcote, Willis averaged 10.1 points and 7.1 rebounds at Michigan State ... A member of the 1983 World University Games, he made .642 of his FG attempts in those games.

PERSONAL INFO: Kevin Andre Willis, whose nicknames are "Devo" and "Fresh," is co-owner of a leather store in the Atlanta area called "Willis and Walker" ... A telecommunications major at MSU, he also became involved in the fashion designing of his own clothing ... Despite not participating in organized basketball until his junior year in high school, Willis was an All-City and honorable mention All-State player ... He was also a distance runner in track ... As well as being an avid weightlifter, he is also considered the "Grand Rapmaster of the Hawks."

HAWK TIDBITS

TRIPLE-DOUBLE MAN...The only current Atlanta player to earn a triple-double (10 or more points, rebounds and assists) is guard Glenn "Doc" Rivers, who has four of them. He gained his first of three during the 1987-88 season against Chicago (29p, 14r, 10a) on Dec. 29, while the other two happened Jan. 1 (also vs. Chicago, 19p, 10r, 10a) and Feb. 27 (vs. Portland, 21p, 14a, 10r). He also had one during the 1988-89 season at Milwaukee (20p, 12r, 10a) on Apr. 19. The only players to post triple-double against the Hawks are Detroit's Isiah Thomas (2-2-82), Dallas' Mark Aguirre (12-27-83) and Philadelphia's Andrew Toney (3-6-85).

ATLANTA HAWKS ALL-TIME TRIPLE DOUBLES

Glenn "Doc" Rivers (1987-88) vs. Chicago (12-29-87, 29 points/14 rebounds/12 assists), vs. Chicago (1-18-88, 19 points/10 assists/10 rebounds), vs. Portland (2-27-88, 21 points, 14 assists, 10 rebounds), and at Milwaukee (4-19-89, 20 points/12 rebounds/10 assists).

ATLANTA HAWKS FOUR-POINT PLAYS

(3-Pt FG and Free Throw)

The distinction has never been accomplished by a Hawks player; however, Detroit's Isiah Thomas (2-2-82) and then–Dallas' Mark Aguirre (12-27-83), along with Philadelphia's Andrew Toney (3-6-85), were the only opponents to burn the Hawks in similar fashion.

THE HISTORY OF THE ATLANTA HAWKS

From Milwaukee, to St. Louis, to Atlanta.

It was a setting made for Mark Twain. A banjo box gymnasium called Wharton Field House seating 6,000 on hardwood benches in a city, or should we say three cities, straddling the Mississippi River where the Atlanta Hawks had their roots.

They were known as the Tri-City Blackhawks, one of the original members of the National Basketball Association after a mid-summer merger in 1949 of the 12-year-old National Basketball League and the four-year-old Basketball Association of America formed the new league.

The Illinois cities of Moline and Rock Island and Davenport, Iowa across the river formed the formal name of the neophyte Blackhawks, coached by Roger Potter.

In the opening game at Wharton Field House, the Blackhawks beat the old Denver Nuggets, 93-85. But after a string of six losses, Potter became the first former coach of the franchise, as he was replaced by Arnold Auerbach.

The first edition of the Blackhawks made the playoffs despite being six games under .500, but dropped out in the first round to the Anderson Duffey Packers. Then the coach, better known as Red Auerbach, left for Boston and many green-and-white World Championship banners.

After two years and a grammatical change to Tri-Cities, the Blackhawks packed their bags and moved to Milwaukee. They shortened the nickname to the Hawks and struggled for four years, never winning more than 27 games and finishing last each season. But it was in Milwaukee where the Hawks made a draft choice that would solidify the franchise for years to come.

His name was Bob Pettit. A first-round draft choice from Louisiana State in 1954, Pettit played his entire 11-year career with the Hawks, moving with the club to St. Louis in 1955. He wrote nearly every record in the Hawks record book and was a four-time MVP of the annual NBA All-Star game, more times than any other player in history.

From 1957 through 1961, the Hawks won five consecutive Western Conference titles. Pettit was the star of the show and had an excellent supporting cast with Cliff Hagan, Slater Martin, Charley Share, and Ed Macauley.

In 1958, the Hawks captured their lone World Championship by defeating Boston, four games to two. On three other occasions during the five-year stretch, the Hawks advanced to the finals only to lose to the Celtics each time.

For no apparent reason, the Hawks turned sour during the 1961-62 season and had it not been for the expansion Chicago Packers, the club would have gone from first to last in just one year. It was the only spring the Hawks failed to qualify for the playoffs in the 13 seasons they spent in St. Louis.

Fortunately for the franchise, Harry Gallatin, the former All-Pro with the New York Knickerbockers, took over the reins the following season and guided the Hawks to a second-place finish and back into the playoffs. For his efforts, Gallatin became the first recipient of the NBA's Coach of the Year award.

But Gallatin couldn't put the Hawks back on top and was replaced in the middle of the 1964-65 season by Richie Guerin, another Knick standout. The club again made the playoffs but were upset in the opening round by the Baltimore Bullets, a team which finished under .500 and eight games behind the Hawks during the regular season.

After the playoff loss, Pettit took off his uniform for the last time. He wound up his career with a 26.4 scoring average topped by a 31.1 mark during the disappointing '61-'62 campaign. His rebounding standards were even more incredible, a career average of 16.2, and a single-season high of 20.3 set during the 1960-61 season. He was named first-team All-Pro in his first ten seasons in the league, and second-team in his 11th and final season. In 1970, Pettit was enshrined in the Basketball Hall of Fame, and his uniform #9 has been retired.

The Hawks were becoming a young team as was characterized by the early Pettit-led teams. A year later, Hagan was gone, representing the last remaining link to the '58 Championship team.

In their places were Lou Hudson, the number one pick in 1966, Zelmo Beaty, Joe Caldwell, Lenny Wilkens, and Bill Bridges. By 1968, the Hawks added another Western Conference title with a record of 56-26 — at that time the best in the team's history — and Guerin became the Hawks' second Coach of the Year.

Then came the shocker.

During the broadcast of an Atlanta Braves baseball game, announcer Milo Hamilton told Atlanta fans the city was going to have a professional basketball team. It was, of course, the Hawks, a perennial NBA powerhouse, moving from St. Louis to Atlanta.

Bringing the team to the South were two of Atlanta's and Georgia's most-respected gentlemen, businessman Thomas G. Cousins and former governor Carl E. Sanders. They acquired the club from Ben Kerner.

Skeptics viewed the move as one of disaster since Atlanta had no facility for professional basketball and noted that the area was a hotbed of football, and there was not room for both sports.

It goes without saying that they were wrong on both counts.

The Hawks received permission to play their games in Alexander Memorial Coliseum on the Georgia Tech campus until a new arena would be constructed, and five years later that realization came true when the Omni was completed.

Under Guerin, the Hawks were sensational the first two years in Atlanta. They won the Western Conference title again in 1970 and advanced to the conference finals both seasons before losing to the star-studded Los Angeles Lakers.

With the emergence of the American Basketball Association came the fall of the Hawks. The new league raided the NBA teams, offering big money to the NBA stars in order to build credibility. Beaty was the first to jump in 1969, and Caldwell followed a year later.

Though the Hawks drafted Pete Maravich, the college scoring champion from Louisiana State, in 1970, the team struggled into the playoffs the next two seasons. The club finished ten games under .500 each year and couldn't get past the first round of the playoffs.

For the 1972-73 season, the Hawks moved into the Omni, a then-16,500-seat structure, with a new coach, Cotton Fitzsimmons. Behind the 27.1 scoring average of Hudson, the Hawks responded to the new surroundings by reversing the record of the previous year.

The next year, however, the Hawks failed to make a playoff appearance for the first time in 12 seasons, and second in 19. Only another expansion team, this time the New Orleans Jazz, kept the club from plummeting into last place. The first move to rectify the situation was to trade Maravich to New Orleans for a slew of draft choices.

Owning the first and third selections in the 1975 NBA College Draft, the Hawks chose David Thompson from North Carolina State and Marvin Webster from Morgan State. The NBA-ABA bidding war was at its peak and both players opted for the Denver Nuggets of the rival league.

Disaster soon followed.

The team lost 51 games, the most in thirteen years, and tumbled into last place for the first time since the team left Milwaukee. Fitzsimmons lost his job eight games from the end (1975-76).

The bright spot on the club was the emergence of John Drew, a second-round pick in 1974, as one of the premier offensive players in the league. Drew, who was Basketball Weekly's Rookie of the Year for 1974-75 while leading the league in offensive rebounds, averaged 21.4 points per game in his second season.

Rumors abounded that a move was imminent, and that a new owner was soon to purchase the team, but Hubie Brown, who coached the Kentucky Colonels to the 1975 NBA Championship, took over the team and promptly began to change the team's image. Midway through the 1976-77 season (January '77), half of the rumor became reality as R.E. "Ted" Turner, owner of the Braves and WTCG-TV, bought the club but stated the team would remain in Atlanta.

Hudson, an 11-year veteran of 730 NBA games, all in a Hawks uniform, was traded to Los Angeles (Lakers) as a youth movement was instituted. The #23 worn by Hudson was retired on the Lakers' first visit to the Omni, marking the second Hawks number to be retired. The two men so honored to that point, Pettit and Hudson, shared the Atlanta record for the most points scored in one game: 57.

Brown's first team suffered through a difficult initial year ('76-'77) by finishing in sixth place in their division with a 31-51 record. The team made a dramatic turnaround just one year later (1977-78), becoming the Cinderella team of the NBA, by advancing to the playoffs for the first time in five years. Brown was named NBA Coach of the Year as the fans became "Hubie's Sixth Man." In addition to Brown's coaching, Atlanta's move forward was sparked by two rookies who would have an impact in the team's history for years to come.

Seven-foot-two center Wayne "Tree" Rollins was selected by the Hawks in the first round of the NBA draft to secure the middle for the team. The Hawks' other impact pick was 6-2 guard Eddie Johnson. These two additions, along with a proven veteran like Drew, would comprise the nucleus of the team.

The Hawks were again playoff participants in 1978-79, but it was just a building block for the following season. Atlanta added forward Dan Roundfield that season and his play, along with the other players, brought the Central Division title to Atlanta in 1979-80. The squad finished with a 50-32 mark, and a first-place finish for the first time in nine years, and three players, Drew, Johnson and Roundfield, participated in the 1980 NBA All-Star game.

After just one season at the top, the Hawks fell 20 games under the .500 mark (1980-81), finishing 31-51 and out of the playoffs for the first time in four years.

Atlanta replaced Brown as coach with former New York/New Jersey Nets coach Kevin Loughery, and he led the Hawks back to the playoffs during both of his seasons in Atlanta (1981-82 and 1982-83) before leaving the team following his final year for another coaching position.

The Hawks' biggest move during Loughery's tenure was made off the court on September 3, 1982. The team traded players John Drew and Freeman Williams plus cash to the Utah Jazz in exchange for Dominique Wilkins, who they had selected that year in the NBA draft. Wilkins, a former All-America player at the University of Georgia, was a unanimous choice to the NBA All-Rookie first team in his rookie season, which was a preview of coming attractions.

Former Hawks assistant Michael Fratello was named to succeed Loughery as the Atlanta franchise's fifth head coach, and he promptly led the Hawks to their third consecutive playoff appearance in 1983-84.

Seeking to change their fortunes and join the NBA elite teams, Atlanta implemented their second youth movement. The Hawks introduced a three-year rebuilding plan in 1984-85 that would hopefully bring the team closer to a championship.

The movement started with the Hawks dealing Roundfield to the Detroit Pistons for forwards Cliff Levingston and Antoine Carr and two future draft pics. Roundfield concluded his six-year career with three All-Star seasons and a 17.6 points-per-game average. In addition to acquiring the youthful forwards, Atlanta drafted another big man in 7-0 center Kevin Willis of Michigan State. Willis' size and speed for an inside player would give the Hawks added depth in the frontcourt. The task of rebuilding was a long and difficult process for Fratello and the Hawks that season as the club finished 34-48 and out of the playoffs for only the second time in eight years.

As a result of missing the playoffs, there was some consolation as the team prepared for the '85-'86 season. The Hawks were allowed to participate in the NBA's first draft lottery (where the seven teams not making the playoffs were allowed to draw for the top seven picks in the 1985 draft), and with the fifth selection, Atlanta grabbed another seven-footer, SMU's Jon Koncak.

One of Atlanta's interesting free agent signings that season was 5-7 guard Anthony "Spud" Webb from N.C. State. A diminutive athlete who defied the odds of making an NBA roster, Webb electrified fans throughout the league with his speed and incredible jumping ability (42 inches). That talent was showcased at the 1986 NBA All-Star Weekend, as Webb defeated his teammate and defending champion Willkins in the '86 Slam Dunk contest.

Despite the loss of his "crown," Wilkins became the first Atlanta player to lead the NBA in scoring after averaging 30.3 points in '85-'86. He was also honored with his first appearance in the NBA All-Star game, and he was also named to the first-team All-NBA squad.

As a team, the Hawks tied franchise marks for most wins in a season (50) and best home record (34-7), and their 50-32 record, which was second in the Central Division, was the league's biggest turnaround (+16 games) from the previous campaign. For his efforts, Fratello was named Haggar/NBA Coach of the Year.

With the high expectations of the 1986-87 season awaiting them, the Hawks provided another year of outstanding play. A franchise record 57 wins capped an extraordinary season that saw Atlanta win the Central Division title. With the third-best record in the NBA, the Hawks established themselves among the league's elite teams, and with the combination of talent and athletic ability, the team became one of the NBA's most popular teams.

Wilkins finished second among the league's leaders in scoring with a 29.0 average, and was voted an All-Star starter for the first time in his career (his second appearance overall).

Several individual records were also established as Glenn "Doc" Rivers broke Atlanta's single-season assist record with 823, which also ranked him fourth in the NBA (10.0 average). Rollins moved into second place on the NBA's all-time blocked shots list, and Mike McGee set an all-time team mark for three-point goals (86) and attempts (229). The team made the playoffs for the second straight season and defeated Indiana in the first round, but faltered in the second round and lost to the Detroit Pistons.

The following season ('87-'88), the Hawks were replaced as division champs by Detroit, as Atlanta concluded the season four games out of first place with a 50-32 record. Highlighting the year's achievements was the first appearance by a Hawks coach in the annual NBA All-Star game, as Mike Fratello earned the spot after Atlanta placed the best record in the Eastern Conference over the first half of the season. Joining Fratello on the victorious East squad were Wilkins and Rivers, who scored 29 and nine points respectively.

An exciting seven-game second-round playoff series against Boston ended the Hawks' quest for a possible championship series berth, but Atlanta followers, who during the season set new attendance records in the Omni, anxiously awaited the start of the 1988-89 year as the Hawks made two off-seasons acquisitions to challenge for the NBA championship.

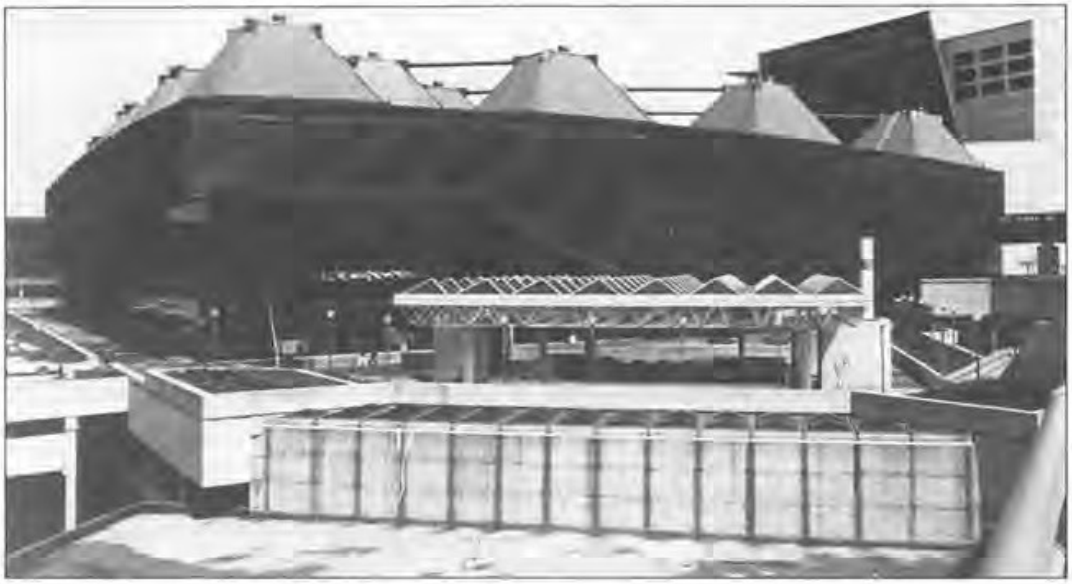
With the addition of Moses Malone and Reggie Theus, many prognosticators around the country believed the Hawks would pose a serious threat for the club's second NBA title, but that was prior to the monumental loss of Willis, who would miss all 82 games with a fracture in his left foot. Despite the absence of the seven-foot forward, Atlanta ended the season with its fourth straight 50-win campaign (which at that time the longest current streak in the Eastern Conference.)

But what most will remember about the Hawks' '88-'89 season is the disappointing end to their title dreams, as the Milwaukee Bucks, who were beaten in all six regular season meetings with Atlanta, upset the Hawks in the first round of the NBA playoffs, three games to two.

The Hawks continued to struggle in 1989-90 as injuries plagued the team over much of the season, forcing them to miss the playoffs for the first time in five years. With a 41-41 record, Atlanta dropped to sixth place in the Central Division.

As a result, Michael Fratello resigned as head coach on April 23, 1990 and was replaced on May 22 by former NBA player and San Antonio head coach Bob Weiss.

ATLANTA'S HOME COURT THE OMNI



The Omni opened its doors for the first time in October of 1972. Since then an eclectic blend of events including professional and collegiate basketball, family shows, the Ringling Brothers Barnum & Bailey Circus, wrestling, motor sports, tennis, concerts, and many more have attracted more than 30 million patrons through The Omni gates.

Over the years, The Omni has been proud to host a number of prestigious events, including the 1988 Democratic National Convention, the 1980 U.S. Figure Skating Champions, the 1977 NCAA Final Four Tournament, the ACC Tournament, the SEC Tournament, and the 1984 Davis Semi-Finals vs. Argentina.

Constructed at a cost of $17 million in private funding, The Omni was built and operates without tax subsidies. Turner Broadcasting System has a long-term lease to manage the facility.

The Omni is on a 9.5 acre site. It is 362 feet square, 130 feet high – equivalent to a 12-story building. It contains 337,000 square feet – equivalent to approximately 7.5 acres.

The concrete floor on which the basketball court is placed houses 55,000 linear feet (10.5 miles) of refrigerant piping to freeze the floor for ice skating events such as Disney On Ice and The Olympic and World Figure Skating Champions.

The unique roof structure is called an "Ortho-Quad-Truss," and consists of 25 "pods," providing a column-free span of 360 feet in both directions.

In the fall of 1979, Hawks and Omni patrons were treated to a new, state-of-the-art public address/music sound system. The concert-quality system consists of four "directional" clusters with a total of 16 bass horns, 32 mid-range horns, and 12 high-range horns.

Other Omni fan enhancement additions include the two colorized Applause Meters/Matrix Boards and expanded center-hung scoreboard which informs patrons of individual players' points and foul totals.
